

INTUITIONS Limited

Subcontractor procurement and supply chain fee charges policies – updated October 2020

Policy Aim

This document aims to provide consistency of approach and transparency to Intuitions' supply-chain fees and charges in relation to its provision of subcontracting. It also provides details of our procurement procedures when dealing with potential subcontractors.

Scope

This policy applies to all supply chain activity supported by funds provided by the Education and Skills Funding Agency or any successor organisations.

Improving Quality

Intuitions is committed to continual improvement in teaching, learning and assessment in its own direct and subcontracted provision. A range of approaches is employed to do this, such as session observations, self-assessment reports and monitoring of specific benchmarking data.

It is an accepted principal for Intuitions that 'best value' should always be sought. In procurement terms this may mean the acceptance that more sustainable services may not always be the cheapest in the short term. However, whilst delivering best value in educational terms, the selection of such services will help to drive the market forward and will eventually lead to long term gain.

To this end Intuitions aims to promote good standards of commercial practice.

Subcontracting procurement rationale

Intuitions' reasons for subcontracting are to allow smaller organisations to meet their local employer needs in terms of hiring an apprentice. Intuitions' role and support are outlined further within this document. Intuitions will only consider working with companies operating within the same sector thus ensuring it can deliver expertise in the subject area and provide tailored support specifically designed for the hair and beauty industry. Furthermore, only locally offered provision (within 50 miles of Harrogate) would be deemed suitable for subcontracting.

Prior to commencement of the subcontracting process, Intuitions will consider a business case proposal to ensure that the subcontracting will be in the best interests of all parties. We will ensure that:

1. The proposed delivery is in the best interests of learners, employers and other stakeholders
2. The proposed delivery has a clear strategic fit with our mission, objectives and values

3. There is sufficient expertise within Intuitions to quality assure the provision
4. There is sufficient staff resource in support areas to administer the processes
5. The subcontractor is approved by our due-diligence process, which includes the following areas:
 - 5.1 Business case for using the potential subcontractor (including details on success rates and timely achievements)
 - 5.2 Learner feedback
 - 5.3 Financial statements
 - 5.4 Past delivery record and contracts awarded / terminated
 - 5.5 Details of directors and decision making officers
 - 5.6 Subcontractor capacity and capability to deliver the contract
 - 5.7 Compliance with health and safety and equality and diversity legislation
 - 5.8 Compliance with employment legislation
 - 5.9 Compliance with safeguarding legislation
 - 5.10 Compliance with General Data Protection Regulations
 - 5.11 Compliance with Duty to Prevent legislation
 - 5.12 Compliance with the Education and Skills Funding Agency's rules for data collection, processing and the keeping of records
 - 5.13 Checking of quality assurance systems, IAG procedures and support for learners
6. There is sufficient funding available
7. The subcontractor agrees to work within the terms of our contract and has signed an agreement to that effect
8. Intuitions will handle each potential subcontracting request on an individual basis
9. Subcontracting contracts will be awarded on a fair and equitable basis considering information from a number of sources, such as the due diligence check, OFSTED grades, external quality marks, etc.
10. All requests for subcontracting will be scrutinised by the Intuitions' directors
11. Each subcontractor is selected on the grounds of displaying characteristics compatible with the ESFA requirements and with prior experience of running a government funded contract and / or successful delivery of educational programmes being prerequisites for subcontract consideration
12. Prior to entering into subcontracting arrangements Intuitions will assure itself that the potential subcontractor has a current listing on the Register of Apprenticeship Training Providers
13. No subcontractor who has successfully applied to the supporting application route of the Register of Apprenticeship Training Providers may receive more than £500,000, or £100,000 if the delivery subcontractor is identified as new, of apprenticeship funding for their delivery from 1 April to 31 March each year

14. There is no perceived or actual conflict of interest between the potential subcontractor and Intuitions Ltd. because of common directors, shared senior personnel or the companies being in the same group
15. In the event of the subcontractor being unable to fulfil the requirements of its subcontract, all elements of the apprenticeship delivery will transfer to Intuitions in Harrogate
16. Intuitions has worked to reduce the number of subcontractors over the past 3 years and for the 20/21 contractual year only engages services of one other provider, with whom it maintains a very close working relationship

Support and Management Fees

Intuitions retains a support fee from all subcontracted partner organisations, which ranges from 10% to 15%. The fees charged reflect the cost of the procurement process, the management of the contracts on an ongoing basis and the overall level of services provided.

The subcontractor's OFSTED grade awarded in their most recent inspection (where applicable) is also taken into consideration in determining the likely levels of support required and therefore the fee to be charged.
